One simulation tick

Per-tick work stays inside a single fused Numba call; each extra Python-side dispatch would cost 5-10 µs.

Determinism: randomness only via hash(seed, tick, index, stream); sequential and parallel kernel twins produce identical outputs (tested).